The Courier-Gazette

CIRCULATION AFFIDAVIT
Rockland, October 22, 1910.
Personally appeared Neil S. Ferry, who on oath declares: That he is president in the office of the Rockland Publishing Co., and that of the issue of The Courier-Gazette of October 18, 1910, there was printed a total of 4,264 copies before me.
F. ERNEST HOLMES, Notary Public.

We are pleased to note that the recent allusions in this column to the matter of rebuilding Sea street have met with reward in the stimulation of interest in the project. For the past day or two there have been gentlemen seen going over the premises, earnestly considering the matter with view to helping forward in any possible way the plans thus far formulated by the city government. A look at the problems presented by this important avenue arouses first a feeling of wonder how there could ever in the world have been brought to pass such a set of conditions. The street lines twist and distort in a dozen different and despairing angles. And the buildings—they remind one of a toy village that a child has aimlessly set down, so utterly at variance with each other are they, no two of them bearing any relation to each other in respect of frontage or general alignment. If ever a chief street of a city needed to be rebuilt, Sea street in Rockland is the one. Let us make a beginning at it and begin at once. And don't let us lose sight of what it may be possible to do in the way of making a really handsome and artistic job of it. It will be easy to widen the street, but that isn't all of it.

The Courier-Gazette acknowledges the receipt lately of numerous post cards from subscribers on the Pacific coast, urging this paper to whom it up for San Francisco as the "logical point" for holding the Panama exposition in 1915. We are also urged from another quarter to advocate the claims in that connection of New Orleans. We find ourselves in much the condition of embarrassment that Mark Twain experienced when he was asked to express his choice as between heaven and hell. He said he had friends in both places.

Edward B. Burpee is taking part in the New York campaign, where his services on the stump in former years have been highly regarded by the Republican state committee.

Through the withdrawal Wednesday of Frederick W. Mansfield, provisional Democratic candidate for Governor, Eugene N. Foss became the only gubernatorial candidate of his party.

Enormous Rock Avalanche

One Hundred Thousand Tons of Stone Hurlled Into Blackington Farm Quarry Fifteen Minutes After Workmen Had Left.

The biggest rock slide which has ever taken place in this city occurred at the Blackington farm quarries, south of the Pleasant street iron bridge, at 11:15 a. m., Wednesday. That several workmen were not plunged to their death, or overwhelmed by the falling mass, must be looked upon as an act of divine Providence. Fifteen minutes before the avalanche went into the quarry there were four men at work on top of the cliff and several men were engaged in a corner of the quarry which was subsequently filled for a depth of more than 100 feet with the debris.

Immediately after the fall workmen began unshipping the derrick and removing the valuable machinery from the engine house. Just how far reaching the accident will be cannot be told at this time. It may mean the abandonment of the iron bridge built in 1899 at a cost of $10,000. This bridge spans the quarry vein, and was built by the owners in consideration of being permitted to quarry the stone on which the old bridge rested. The bridge is now owned by the city. Prior to our going to press this morning no action had been taken toward closing it.

The Blackington farm quarry is really a series of three quarries, numbered 1, 2 and 3. Quarry No. 1 was full of water for a depth of 100 feet; No. 2 had not been in operation during the summer, but just before the accident occurred two men were working in the farther corner of it. Quarry No. 3 was occupied by 17 men, with George W. Ames as foreman.

The eastern cliff of these quarries assumed a threatening aspect some months ago, and for several weeks a small crew of men had been working on the bank preparing to blast off the dangerous portion.

Wednesday morning small chips began falling into the quarry. This is always regarded by quarrymen as a dangerous symptom, and at 10 a. m., Foreman Ames ordered his men out of Quarry No. 3, together with those who were working in the corner of No. 2. He also sent a messenger to warn the foremen who were working on the dangerous cliff. The latter desisted for about 10 minutes, and then for some unexplained reason went back to work, remaining there until lunch hour.

Fifteen minutes after they had quit the bank there came a terrific crash, which reverberated the entire length of the quarry vein, striking terror to the hearts of all who heard it.

Where the four men had been working only a short time before appeared an immense gap, while in the bottom of Quarry No. 2 was a mass of stone and earth estimated at 100,000 tons, partly good rock. The immensity of the avalanche may better be gauged when one is given to understand that 100,000 tons of stone would be the equivalent of 500,000 casks of lime, or more than one-third of the entire amount manufactured in this city for a year. It was stated Thursday that the work of removing the debris from Quarry No. 2 would be a task occupying nearly a full year. The work will not be undertaken for the present.

The disaster is a serious one for the Lime company, which has otherwise had a very successful year.

DIED IN THE WOODS

Francis W. Clemson, Prominent Woburn Manufacturer Drops Dead in Appleton While Hunting.

Francis W. Clemson, a prominent Woburn, Mass., manufacturer expired from heart disease while on his annual hunting trip in the woods at Appleton Tuesday. Mr. Clemson was the guest of Addison McCarrison of Appleton. After hunting in company for a while they separated. When Mr. McCarrison was ready to leave the woods he signalled to Mr. Clemson, but received no response. After a long search he found Mr. Clemson's body lying among a clump of trees with his loaded weapon nearby.

Dr. Kellar pronounced it a case of heart disease and coroner Judkins decided to hold no inquest. Mr. Clemson was widely known as a manufacturer of belt knives and saws. For 35 years he had been allied with the industry, and the world was his market. In his line of work he had won a name for standard excellence of product and business integrity.

Mr. Clemson learned his trade in his father's factory. After several business associations, always in the same line of work, he established the concern known as the Clemson Knife Co., building a large and commodious plant at Walnut Hill, Woburn.

He was an enthusiastic sportsman and annually visited the Maine woods during the hunting season.

His son arrived Wednesday and made arrangements for the return of his father's body.

Mr. Clemson is survived by his wife, one son and two daughters.

LOST IN WEIGHT AND STRENGTH

WAS PALE, NERVOUS, DEPRESSED AND SUBJECT TO HEADACHES.

Shortness of Breath and Palpitation of the Heart Were Also Symptoms of Anemia in This Case.

If sufferers from a deficient blood supply could only know it a large percentage of cases could be quickly cured for there is a remedy that is exactly suited for their trouble and it is within the reach of all. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an almost certain blood-builder and as a remedy for anemic conditions will surprise by their marvelous results patients who have failed to regain health, strength and color by the use of other remedies. The following cure is but one of thousands and further proof, from your own locality can be had for the asking. "I suffered from anemia or lack of blood for over three years from the time I was sixteen years of age," says Miss L. M. Halladay, of Jordan, Onondaga county, N. Y. "I had a very sallow complexion and was subject to bad headaches as often as two or three times a week. After I had been sick for some time I began to be troubled with nervousness and would imagine all sorts of things and didn't want to be left alone. I was very much run down and lost in weight and strength until I couldn't do anything. I was simply helpless. I had palpitation of the heart and was short of breath especially upon going up stairs. I didn't have any appetite and had indigestion. I had no ambition and was depressed."

"I was under a physician's care and he said I was suffering from lack of blood and that he would give me medicine to build me up but he didn't help me. I had been sick for about two years when a friend of my father told him that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had saved his daughter's life. As she had taken the pills for anemia I decided to give them a trial. They helped me right along and I took several boxes and was cured. Since then I have taken the pills occasionally as a tonic especially in the spring. They gave me new life and made me feel like a new person. I have been in fine health since."

A booklet, "Diseases of the Blood," will be sent free upon request to anyone interested in the remedy that cured Miss Halladay. Write for a copy today. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

Jefferson Fish died at his home in this town, Sunday, Oct. 9, at the age of 82 years, 9 months, 4 days. ## Don't Turn Your Back on a Good Thing

Ten Dollar Overcoat—Man came in yesterday and said: "See here, you people are making so much noise about that $10 Overcoat, I'd just like to see what it looks like." We had him slip into one of those beautiful 50 inch dark cheviot $10 Coats; he looked it over carefully, noticed the graceful lapels, the presto collar, which when turned up makes a perfect fitting military collar, the good linings, the double-stitched seams, and he asked: "Is this your twelve dollar overcoat? I wanted to see a ten-dollar one." He was taken back when we told him it was $10—thought his judgment was bad. It wasn't. The coat is as good as we usually sell for $12.00.

The assignments of E. Roy Smith, hope to be able to make a settlement on the basis of about 30 per cent. The liabilities are between $9000 and $10,000. The face value of the stock is about $2000, but would naturally yield considerably less on a forced sale. The future occupancy of the store is still undetermined.

Staples Camp of Augusta is the only one which has thus far passed resolutions in favor of retaining its membership. The Maine division ranks sixth in the country's 25 and its withdrawal would cause the wire-pullers of the national encampments to sit up and take notice.

Barkentine Kingdom of the Holy Ghost fleet arrived at this port Thursday to take aboard more supplies before proceeding on a long voyage, according to Portland newspaper reports.

The press of the state has done considerable guesswork about the Holy Ghost and its Society, since Mr. Sanford disappeared from public eye. The Lewiston newspaper man who stated not long ago that the leader of the colony was a seeker for newspaper notoriety might undertake to make good on that statement by presenting some authentic information. Better still, he might ask the Portland newspaper men what luck they have had in meeting Mr. Sanford.

Two demure babes with pencilled eyebrows and delicately rouged cheeks blew up town Wednesday night, hostessing their fascinating glances invited impartially upon eligible men-folk. Near the corner of Limerock street they encountered a well-known practical joker, who promptly invited them into his (?) automobile, a handsome seven-seated touring car, standing idle and unoccupied at the corner.

The practical joker then disappeared, ostensibly in search of his chauffeur. For nearly half an hour the babes with the pictures hats sat propped up in the rear seat of some stranger's motor car, and they would probably have been waiting there yet if two dead-game youngsters hadn't happened along and invited them to Rockland Theatre to see "East Lynne." The buttniks spoiled the fun of the bystanders who were waiting to see what would happen.

The full service by the local letter carriers was resumed Oct. 20. This service was curtailed during the summer by order of the postoffice department, to afford the carriers their vacations with the smallest expenditure possible for substitutes. It rendered necessary the cutting out of the two delivered mail on the Main street following arrival of the noon and evening trains and also narrowed considerably the collection from many of the mail boxes. This curtailment was not specially noticeable while the pullman service was on, but the winter schedule that went into effect Oct. 16 was not so favorable, the loss of the noon delivery being particularly felt by the business houses. The full service of collection and delivery now restored will be the more appreciated. Incidentally it invites attention to the fact that but very few cities of its class are so admirably served with its mails as is Rockland. Seven foot-carriers and one rural carrier make it possible to give delivery to almost every family within the city borders.

The Freshman and Sophomore baseball teams at the University of Maine played an interesting game last Saturday, and another contest will be necessary to decide the inter-class championship. The Bangor News in its report of the game, says: "For the Sophomores Maurice Bird did the best hitting, laying down a two-bagger and a clean single, and Bird and Butts contributed some classy fielding. Dangle of '79, who pitched a good game for the Freshmen, striking out eight men and allowing only five hits.

GRAND MASTER MILLER

Rockland Man is Now at Head of Maine Odd Fellows—Knox Lodge Leads All Others.

The annual session of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows was held in Portland Wednesday and was one of unusual importance to Rockland owing to the fact that Frank B. Miller of Knox Lodge was elected to the position of Grand Master. He is the first resident of this city who has ever achieved that distinction. Knox Lodge is fully entitled to the distinction as it is the largest subordinate lodge in the jurisdiction.

The report of Grand Secretary Dyer showed that the Grand Lodge is composed of 151 lodges, with a total membership of 24,923. No single lodge made a large gain during the year, Penobscot Lodge of Bangor leading with 29. Knox Lodge admitted 22, and has outstripped Leconte Lodge of Biddeford. The Rockland lodge has 474 members.

"Financially," says Secretary Dyer, "our lodges show a healthy gain. The total receipts are $196,891.26, against $188,746, for the year before. The expenses, however, separate from relief and charity, increasing correspondingly, showing $93,061. This is a large sum, but as lodges are more and more owning lodge buildings the repairs must grow larger. The sum of $88,509 was paid out for relief, a sum greater than was ever expended in this jurisdiction in a single year, showing that our lodges are complying with the mandates of our order—relieving the sick, burying the dead, and providing for widows and orphans. This great outlay shows a daily disbursement of $242 for each and every day in the year. Notwithstanding a total outlay of $181,571, we have gained in total assets more than $100,000—our assets aggregating $232,058.

The Grand Lodge degree was conferred upon 100 past noble grands.

The Grand Lodge of Rebekahs, held Tuesday, elected Mrs. Mae L. Cash of South Portland president. The annual report shows the present membership of the order to be 24,923, a net gain of $4 for the year. There are 151 lodges, a gain of two. The number of members decreased during the year was 370, withdrawn, 130; suspended, 452; expelled, 2. The receipts for the year were $196,891 and the total amount paid for relief $88,509. The invested funds including real estate, $232,058.

ROCKLAND HIGH QUITS

No More Football Games This Season—Orange and Black Shows White Feather for First Time in Its History.

The Rockland High School Athletic Association held a meeting Wednesday afternoon and put the kibosh on football for the remainder of the season. The team was disbanded and the game to have been played here with Morse High of Bath Saturday afternoon was cancelled. The season has been a failure from the start the local team being easy picking for the Bath and Bucksport eleven, whether these defeats inspired frigid feet, or whether the players have other interests which appeal to them more strongly than football, is not made clear, but the fact remains that Capt. Killoch was unable to get more than five or six men out of practice each day. Under such circumstances it was perhaps wise to drop the schedule altogether, but it is the first time in the writer's recollection that Rockland High has ever shown the white feather, and it reflects anything but credit upon the responsible parties.

The Association elected Frank Campbell captain of next year's baseball team and it was announced that fall baseball practice would take the place of football playing. Let's hope that the courage will not ooze out utterly before springtime comes.

How to Tell if Your Hair is Diseased.

Even if you have a luxuriant head of hair you may want to know whether it is in a healthy condition or not. 98 per cent of the people need a hair tonic.

Pull a hair out of your head; if the bulb at the end of the root is white and shrunken, it proves that the hair is diseased, and requires prompt treatment if its loss would be avoided. If the bulb is pink and full, the hair is healthy.

We want every one whose hair requires treatment to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. We promise that it shall not cost anything if it does not give satisfactory results. It is designed to overcome dandruff, relieve scalp irritation, to stimulate the hair roots, tighten the hair already in the head, grow hair and cure baldness.

It is because of what Rexall "93" Hair Tonic has done and our sincere faith in its goodness that we want you to try it at our risk. Two sizes, 50c. and $1.00. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store—Fred H. Call's, Main street, Rockland.

has been visiting her father and sisters
the past week.

This place was thrown into sadness last Sunday morning by the sudden death of Simpson Cramer of this place.

While Mr. Cramer was in the pasture during the thunder shower of Oct. 1, he was taken suddenly from what he supposed was a shock from the lightning, but recovered in a few moments as to reach his house. He seemed to be improving until Thursday night he started to come down stairs and was taken suddenly ill from dizziness, or from a slight shock, falling to the bottom of the stairs striking on his head and shoulders. When picked up and taken to his room he was unconscious but gained consciousness after a while, talking with his family but was terribly bruised from the fall and remained in a helpless condition until God called him home Sunday morning. Mr. Cramer was a man that was beloved and respected by all his neighbors and friends. He was a kind and affectionate husband and father and was one of the old residents of this place, having lived here all his life. He was a member of Washington Lodge, Y. & A. M., of which a goodly number turned out to bury their beloved brother. Union Lodge was also represented at his funeral. He leaves a wife, Mrs. Caroline Cramer, and three children, Edward,
Henry and Wilder, and a brother,
James Cramer of this place, and a sister Mrs. Lena Doris of Friendship. His funeral took place from his late residence at high noon Wednesday. Rev.
I. H. Lidstone officiated, the floral offerings were many and beautiful. Interment was in Daguerre cemetery. Let him rest, sweetly rest.

per and sale at the town hall Friday evening, Oct. 21. The club was organized in the spring for the purpose of obtaining funds toward repairing the town hall. At a social given by the club a few months ago a goodly sum was raised and the proceeds were used in painting, mureeasing and papering the hall, which add much to the interior. The Guiding Light Sabbath school which is held there has purchased an organ, curtains, lamps, books, etc., and a fine Sabbath school conducted by Supt. J. H. Peavey, is steadily increasing in membership, and he trusts that his influence in the good work may be lasting. The chimney has been layed over and changed so that the hall may be more economically heated during the winter, and we hope the community in general appreciate the work done, not only in making it more convenient and attractive, but by the interest manifested by the club to keep the old land mark from going to the ground. The town has laid a new wall and shingled it which adds a little to the exterior.

go about their duties cheerfully—at home, in office or in store, or shop—They find life pleasant and the world full of good; they are attractive and they are able to make things pleasant for those about them. But women often find themselves weak and anemic—or run down—maybe, through no fault of their own—Then there is depression—the outlook is dark. With nerves on edge no woman can enjoy life or be attractive to others. At such times, or when conditions cause undue suffering, every woman needs some natural help.

She should then know and use the famous and fully proved remedy—Beecham's Pills, so particularly adapted to the needs of women. Easy and safe to take, they tone
the stomach, regulate the bowels and keep
